Question and Answers

Why did you decide to major in English?

Why not?

To find out the purpose of "ueue" in the word "queue".

Trisha Isabel Inot

Chyra Mae Torrejos

I chose this major because of my aunt. My aunt is the one who finances our expenses, gives us what we want, and just wanted to have a teacher in our family. To also give back, I decided to take up education major in English.

Maribel Reubal

There is this fear within me, the fear to try and explore new things, and one of that fear is English. The English subject is one of my weaknesses and one of the subject that I hate. Then I remembered our year book when I was senior high, my quotation there was, " Believe in yourself and do not be afraid to try". So I decided to face that fear, because at the end I will be the one to create my own destiny and not my fear and weakness.

Angel Adajar

I choose major in English for the clout but in the end, I never thought I would be clowning myself that it is just an easy peasy lemon squeezy journey.

Dear English enthusiasts, let go and prosper! Be the best version of yourselves.

Our organization provides opportunities for students to pursue interests, work with peers, and enhance their overall college life experience by having a sense of belongingness. Training YOU to welcome a variety of opportunities in your educational development and to take responsibility for your education so that you will grow as well-rounded, engaged citizens who are confident, enterprising, and respectable personalities who can face the realities of life.

I am grateful to the SEM officers for their active engagement and willingness to work with the students. Let us hold hands as one organization to help our fellow English enthusiasts become more than just "students". Being a member of SEM allows our co-enthusiasts to realize that school is more than just written activities, outputs, homework, quizzes, oral recitation and participation, and major examinations. It is about preparing YOU for life and equipping YOU with exceptional values and academic competencies.

"The leader is not necessarily the one who does the greatest things. He is the one who gets the people to do the greatest things."

Student organizations are known to be the most active social group in any institution that the youth today participate in and develop. It exists for different reasons, and knowing these can help you decide which one to join. However, some find it excruciating. Once they are in accord with their chosen organization, it might hinder what they wish to do or their set schedules intended for themselves. Yet, it allows them to discover their potential in serving a purpose and achieving rightful goals.

Arabella Shane Yakit

President

The Society of English Majors is an academic organization that molds English enthusiasts to strive toward achieving their goals and dreams. With this, its vision, mission, and core values are given emphasis for the LLCCians to follow. It is not easy to maintain its name, and it is also a challenge for the officers to remain calm under so much pressure. There were obstacles we went through, but we still willingly accomplished greater things. Beyond all, it was an opportunity and a memorable experience. Salute! I'm grateful that we were part of this amazing journey; our commitment and dedication were worthy and remarkable, and at the end, it became a legacy.
